

Prof. Dr. Claudia Finkbeiner CV

Prof. Dr. Claudia Finkbeiner is a professor at the University of Kassel, Germany and head of Applied Linguistics, Foreign Language Research and Intercultural Communication at the Faculty of Humanities, Department of English. She is currently the president of the Association for Language Awareness, Area Chair of the International Research on Literacy Teaching and Learning study group of the Literacy Research Association and member of several national and international associations. Prof. Finkbeiner has published more than a hundred articles and is editor of two book series: Literacy, Language and Learning (LLL), Information Age Publishing and Language, Culture, Literacy (LaCuLi), Peter Lang. Prof. Finkbeiner coordinates more than 20 exchange programs with universities worldwide. Her current research project is on international online learning and distance learning; this project made her win the second award in the framework of the Hesse Price of Excellence in Teaching, Hessen State Ministry for Higher Education, Research and the Arts in 2019. Additionally, there are important projects on the role of language awareness in intercultural learning, multilingualism in content and language integrated learning, and literacy research with a special focus on reading strategies and reading interest.

https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Claudia\_Finkbeiner

www.uni-kassel.de/flul

www.languageawareness.com

<https://www.literacyresearchassociation.org/research-areas-area-chairs>